Mayors Corner

May 2018

A huge congratulations is extended to the volunteers and committee that was responsible for putting on the poetry event that happened in Oxford last weekend. What a fantastic weekend it was. It was wonderful to see our town hustling and bustling on a Saturday afternoon. So thank you to Ruthie, Eleanor, Mary Ellen and Megan for making "Poetry at Large" such a grand event. Also a big shout out goes to all of the contributors, readers, business owners, and the United Church. It has been said that "Poetry at Large" will be an annual event, so we will look forward to what next April has to bring.

Speaking of Volunteer groups.....Main Street Music Society and the Capitol Theater will have a busy month of May. On May 3, 4, and 5th Cumberland Performing Arts will be putting on the play "The Little Mermaid Jr". I hear the tickets are selling out quickly on that one. There will be a "Friday Night Jam" on the 11th. The "Bluegrass Diamonds" will be playing on May 18th at 7:00pm. I have heard this band numerous time and they are full of talent and fantastic! There will be another, ever popular "Friday night Jam" on the 25th. Lisa Hallett and friends will be rocking the house on May 25th. Now that is quite a line up for our little Capitol Theater!

We have two new businesses in town. National Trailer Sales has opened up on Lower Main St. Sunset Community Thrift Store (on the corner of Water and Main) will be opening their doors in the very near future. Congratulations to both of these new businesses, and WELCOME to town!

Don't forget about the annual Community Yard Sale on May 19th. If you are having a yard sale please register at the town hall so your address will be put on the map. You can pick up your maps at the town hall a few days before the sale.

Happy Spring everyone!

Until next time.....

Mayor Trish
